Petition

Is Refused

Imperial Government Declines to Suspend Constitution of the Cape.

Mr. Chamberlain Thinks Such a Proceeding Would Be Grave Mistake.

Premier Sprigg Says Decision Will Promote Peace and Reconciliation.

London, July 5.—The reply of the Colonial Secretary, Joseph Chamberlain, to the petition for the suspension of the constitution of Cape Colony, was published in a parliamentary paper this evening. It says there is no precedent for the suspension of the constitution of a self-governed colony. The suspension could be effected only by an act of the Imperial Parliament. The government believes such a step is not called for, unless it is proven that the constitution is a positive danger to the colony's peace, or that a great majority of the whites desire that the authority be completely transferred to the Imperial government. Such a desire could only be constitutionally expressed by a resolution of the Cape parliament. It will be necessary to pass an act of indemnity, on account of violations of the constitution, and it may also perhaps be needful to confer special powers on the Cape government for carrying out the pacification of the colony and the maintenance of British interests.

The government is satisfied that the necessary steps to provide for the security of the country and discourage the racial and political controversy which is interfering with its prosperity, and which can serve no good purpose among members of a community having common interests in the peace and prosperity of South Africa.

Mr. Chamberlain concludes with remarking that the government considers it unjustifiable to assume beforehand that the Colonial parliament will refuse the necessary legislation, and is of the opinion that the Imperial Government should assume as soon as possible, and the requisite legislation should be introduced, especially as the Imperial government is assured that the moderates of all parties desire to avoid further strife, and wish to ally the passions excited by the war. The government is hopeful that those who sympathized with the rebellion will cordially co-operate in the pacification of the colony.

Sir John Gordon Sprigg, the Premier of Cape Colony, was interviewed today regarding the decision of the Imperial government not to suspend the constitution of Cape Colony. He said: "The suspension of the constitution would have a reverse effect."

GOOD REPORTS FROM THE PELLY

Claims Laid to Be Giving Fine Results With Primitive Methods.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Vancouver, July 5.—The steamer City of Seattle arrived tonight with 62 passengers, and about $20,000 in gold. She brings word that the Dolphin is close behind with $1,000,000 in gold for the Seattle assay office.

The good news is brought that on the Pelly river all the bars are yielding $5 to a man without rocker or sluice.

The Atlin gold commissioners are being besieged with complaints from placer claim owners regarding the alleged injury done them by water privilege-granted hydraulic companies. The complaints are being officially noted and will be sent to Victoria.

The combined extension of street railway men and the Fraternity of Eagles took place to Whetmore yesterday. Owing to the rain no procession took place and all the races scheduled for the day were postponed. The freedom of the two cities were extended to British Columbians and to them everything was free. In spite of the rain the visitors were right royally entertained.

Ten Year Old Girl Shoots Her Uncle.

Louisville, Ky., July 5.—A special to the Times from Paducah says: "Susie Frazier, 10 years old, was arraigned in the police court today charged with killing her uncle, George Jones, last night. The child, it is claimed, saw her uncle beating his wife, and obtaining a pistol, shot him in the stomach, inflicting a wound which caused his death shortly afterwards."

IRISH LAND LEAGUE.

John Redmond Agitates for Opposition to Coercion.

Dublin, July 5.—Addressing a meeting of the United Irish League at Limerick today, John Redmond, chairman of the league, called on the Irish to unite for one great effort. Coercion, he said, should meet coercion, and the land schemes of Mr. Wyndham, the chief secretary for Ireland, should be defeated. It rested with the Irish to win their liberty.

The Guests of His Majesty

Many Thousands Enjoy the Hospitality of the King in London.

The Royal Patient's Health Continues to Improve Every Day.

London, July 5.—Although no more evening bulletins regarding the condition of King Edward are to be issued, it was announced at Buckingham Palace this evening that His Majesty had made good progress since morning, and that he was much gratified with the accounts he received of the successful carrying out of the plans for the dinners for the poor in London. The King received many telegrams of thanks and congratulations from the scenes of these festivities, declaring that the pleasure of the occasion was vastly enhanced by the tidings that His Majesty was out of danger.

On his arrival at York House this evening, after a long tour of the many dining rendezvous, the Prince of Wales telegraphed to the Lord Mayor of London, Sir Joseph C. Dimsdale, that the programme was everywhere carried out without a hitch. The Prince in this despatch commended all the mayors and all others concerned, for the arrangements for the dinners, and thanked the people for the hearty welcomes accorded himself and the Princess.

Sir Thomas Lipton, the general chairman of the dinners, has transmitted his thanks to all responsible for organizing the feasts for their painstaking devotion in carrying out the wishes of the King.

The appearance of Queen Alexandra, as she drove out in an open carriage for an hour this evening, accompanied by some of the royal guests at the palace, occasioned enthusiasm in the park, and in the streets which Her Majesty traversed.

OUT OF DANGER.
The following bulletin regarding King Edward's condition was posted at Buckingham Palace at 10 o'clock this morning:

"His Majesty had another excellent night. He is cheerful and feels much stronger. We are glad to be able to state that we consider the King out of danger. The evening bulletins will, therefore, be discontinued.

(Signed, Treves, Laking and Barlow.)
Half a million of London's poor were King Edward's guests this afternoon. They were scattered in about 400 halls, schools and parks in varying numbers, the greatest of the royal beneficiaries being at Stepney, where no less than 45,000 enjoyed a dinner such as they seldom partake of. At every gathering was read a message from the King to the poor, sent through the Lord Mayor of London, Sir Joseph C. Dimsdale, as follows:

"Buckingham Palace, 11.20 a. m.
"I am commanded by the King to inform Your Lordship that His Majesty and the Queen had intended visiting some of his coronation dinners today, and he deeply regrets his illness prevents his doing so. Members of his family will represent him at as many dinners as possible. I am further commanded by the King to express the hope that his guests are enjoying themselves and passing a happy day. (Signed, Knollys.)

This morning's bulletin announcing that King Edward is out of danger was also circulated so that the half million poor folk drank His Majesty's health in unrestrained enjoyment out of the coronation cups presented to each of them as a souvenir of the occasion.

The Prince and Princess of Wales traversed the metropolis from end to end in semi-state, the carriages being escorted by a detachment of the Horse Guards, and appeared at central gatherings in several districts.

The principal dinner was at Fulham, where Sir Thomas Lipton, who organized the whole feast, did the honors of the day to 14,000 of the poor, aided by a host of titled and untitled volunteers, including Timothy L. Woodruff, lieutenant-governor of New York state; Vice-Commodore Bourne of New York Yacht club, and other Americans, who handed around plates of beef and pudding, or filled beer mugs with an enthusiasm emblematic of the whole spirit of the occasion.

Canada's Finances

Revenue Shows Large Increase and the Expenditure a Decrease.

Result Is Better Than Anticipated by the Budget Speech.

Victorian Order of Nurses—New Revenue Stamps for the Yukon.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Ottawa, July 5.—The Finance department has prepared a statement of the revenue and expenditure of Canada to the close of the fiscal year ending June. It shows a total revenue of $56,303,604 against $50,735,946 the year before, and expenditure of $42,553,316 against $38,514,508. This would yield a surplus of $14,000,000, but the probability is that by the time all accounts are balanced this will be reduced one-half. The capital expenditure for the past year is $11,532,155, which is greater by two millions than for 1901. After accounting for two millions and a half sinking funds and capital expenditure items unsettled, there will be a net addition of about three and a quarter millions to the national debt. This is a better showing than was expected by the Finance minister in the Budget of last session. The revenue returns are as follows:

Source	1901.	1902.
Customs	$28,137,419	$31,045,651
Excise	10,254,645	11,115,719
Post Office	3,137,880	3,737,925
P. Works and Trans.	5,702,450	6,380,720
Miscellaneous	3,123,747	3,123,503

At the regular meeting of the Executive council, Victorian Order of Nurses, held recently, it was reported that the existing balance of the cottage hospital fund amounts to $18,000, and existing liabilities, $12,000. The balance to the credit of the central general fund is $2,505. An interesting report dated Dauphin, was received from Miss McLeod, chief lady superintendent, who is returning from a tour of inspection in the West, and who expects to be in Ottawa about the middle of the month.

The annual church parade of Orangeville will take place tomorrow to St. David's church, New Edinburgh. Rev. Hubert Jones will be the preacher. A large attendance of members is expected.

Mr. Bernier, minister of inland revenue, can give his colleague, Sir William Mulock pointers in the production of stamps. The Department of Inland Revenue has just received two new series of stamps which as works of art have not been equaled in Canada for many years. They are designed especially for use in the Yukon. All the stamps are of uniform size, 1 1/2 inches by 1 inch, and are of six denominations, 10 c., 25c., 50c., $1, $2 and $3. The red color is in-teresting because the department from the traditional engraving in that he has removed the hoodwink from the lady's eye, implying probably that she intends to exercise a little more vigilance in future in the administration of Yukon affairs.

TRACY IS SURROUNDED

Sheriff Cuddehe and Posse Have Him Corralled In a Barn.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Seattle, Wash., July 5.—After Tracy left Mrs. Van Horne's house Thursday night, no real trace of him was found until today, when it was found that he stopped for breakfast yesterday morning with a family named Fisher, four miles north of Ravenna park, and by threats kept them from telling any one of his visit until today.

There were numerous rumors of his appearance today from a number of widely separated places, but it was not until this evening that he was seen by two men to enter a barn, about two miles from the cabin, near Bothell, where the fight occurred in which Raymond was killed and Williams badly wounded.

A posse has surrounded the barn where he is supposed to be hidden, and they will wait for him to make a break for liberty, or else try to draw him out in some way. Sheriff Cuddehe does not wish his men to rush the barn, as it would mean further loss of life on the part of his deputies.

At 12 o'clock tonight the situation remains the same, but it is expected that a fight may occur at any moment.

RHODES' SCHOLARSHIPS.
Chairman's Illness Delays the Arrangements Regarding Request.

London, July 5.—An unfortunate hitch has occurred in the arrangements regarding the Cecil Rhodes scholarships owing to the illness of Lord Grey, who suffered a slight stroke in the Channel Islands this week. Serious complications were at first feared, but Lord Grey will be well enough July 8 to go to the Continent, though perfect rest is enjoined. As Lord Grey is the spokesman of Mr. Rhodes' executors, several meetings and an informal discussion by the colonial premiers and others now in London regarding the best method for selecting candidates, etc., have been temporarily postponed.

DISASTROUS SNAKE.
Earthquake at Salonica Ruins Houses and Kills Many Persons.

London, July 6.—A despatch to the Exchange Telegram company from Vienna, says a severe earthquake shock was felt at Salonica, European Turkey, yesterday forenoon. According to this despatch, many houses were wrecked, and there was much loss of life. Particulars of the disaster have not yet been received.

Lulu Island Development

Natural Gas at Steveston to Be Exploited by a Company.

Opening of the New Railway Marks an Important Improvement.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Steveston, July 5.—An effort is shortly to be made to test the actual value of the seemingly plentiful supply of natural gas discovered some years ago in the vicinity of Steveston. A meeting was held in the Court house on Monday, of local business men and others, and after considerable discussion, it was agreed to have a temporary reservoir built over the largest well showing gas production, and in connection with it to have a test apparatus fixed up so that an accurate idea might be had of the pressure and illuminating power of the gas. There can be very little doubt that a large volume of gas is within easy reach, and from indications it would seem that very little boring would be needed, for just now sufficient is coming through a considerable depth of water in various places, to ignite on application of a light. Over one well some 100 feet deep, and from which a steady flow of gas is coming, a small lamp has been placed, and through the end of it a half inch hole was drilled, and the current coming out of this was sufficient to give 100 candle light continuously. This experiment was made over the smallest well, and at the best was very primitive, but sufficient success was met with to encourage a few local enthusiasts to push the business. Since that time the course of the gas currents have been fairly accurately traced, and just now surface indications are visible from a point behind the Japanese hospital to the water front, and from there stretching right out to the lighthouse at the end of the island. In some places along the shore line in calm weather the action of rising gas is distinctly seen, even when the water is from 20 to 40 fathoms deep. A company has already been privately floated, and in the near future if the projected tests are satisfactory a strong effort will be made to interest outside capital in the proposition.

The Lulu Island railway, the latest branch of the C. P. R., has just been completed, and the first passenger train was run over the line on Monday. Mr. Marjorie, Mr. Coyle, and some other gentlemen from Vancouver came over and inspected different parts of the workings and made arrangements for the official opening of the line on Dominion Day. Everything is being done as smoothly as expected, and the railway men expressed themselves as delighted with the enterprise. Mr. J. McQuarry, the contractor, has done a difficult job in an entirely satisfactory manner, and the time taken to grade the track and lay the rails on the last nine miles, some 22 days in all, and done by not more than 30 men, very nearly establishes a record for expeditions work. The railway is certain to be a great factor in Steveston's future prosperity, and more than likely will have the tendency to turn the town into a great distributing centre, not only for the Lulu Island, but also for the whole of the Fraser river valley. A good service has been promised by the C. P. R.—three trains a day in each direction—and the journey will be performed well inside of an hour. Frequent stations will be erected on the way, and the whole agricultural district lying between Steveston and Vancouver will then be brought into easy communication with each end of the line.

The official opening of the line took place under somewhat inauspicious climatic conditions but the more important feature of the start, successful running and a very prompt train were all that could be desired. At the Steveston terminal, nearly five hundred passengers, gathered from the nearby river landing, boarded the train, and at 9 o'clock sharp the engine, accompanied by a cheer and shouts of good wishes from the whole Steveston population, the engine turned on steam, and the train made up of five first class coaches and an observation car, moved slowly out. The first stop was made at the contractor's camp to take up a number of the men who have been working on the line, and who, at the expense of their employer, all enjoyed a well deserved holiday. The journey from this point is not at all interesting, in a scenic sense. The country is flat in the immediate vicinity, and never can offer any great inducement to a sight-seeing tourist. But that, however, is the last thing thought of in the line laying. The opening up of one of the most fertile tracts of farming land in the province being recognized necessity that compelled the construction of the Lulu Island railway. That this line was needed, there can be no doubt, thousands of acres of farming land hitherto dependent on stage coach and wagon connection with Vancouver, are now tapped by a more direct, richer parts, and what is more important than all to the dairy farmer, the markets can now be reached in about half an hour as against some three hours in the old way. A second stop was made at No. 2 Road, and at this point some four miles from Steveston, where a station is to be erected, and at No. 3 Station, where some more passengers came aboard, a second depot will go up. The line up to this point is not yet ballasted, and locomotion over it necessarily slow, but from this on the track is the exception of station houses. For some few miles from this point on, the track is over an uncleared peat prairie, which up to this time has scarcely been touched by settlers owing to the difficulty experienced in getting to it, but now that a way has been opened through it, considerable development will likely progress. The first stop at a township, and immediately beyond it the train comes over the Arm on a high trestle bridge, and half a mile beyond, Elbarne station is reached. Past it is a country, and dense bush, the stage road is soon passed, and although no stop was made here, at this point a station will be placed in the near future. From this on to Vancouver a few more stopping places are passed, and in Vancouver itself, several stops are made at convenient points before the general terminus is reached. The whole journey was made in one and a quarter hours, which, considering the fact that the track has only been finished for a few days, should be reckoned pretty good time.

The train crew were: Engineer, L. King; conductor, H. B. Purdie; fireman, T. Hill; brakeman, A. McQuarry. Mr. S. Wood, who is acting as Lulu Island railway manager, accompanied the train and expressed himself as completely satisfied with the opening venture. The completed line is about 15 miles long.
